Parish Mass Book Page 160

Order of Mass P6, The Nicene Creed P11

“My kingdom does not belong to this world”

The first two readings today are apocalyptic. We are called to be dreamers, to be visionaries – to imagine what it would be like if our entire physical world, were indeed the Kingdom of God.

Given the daily events in our lives, a world without sin would truly be an amazing place! Imagine the evening news without a murder to talk about, no reports of people living without heat, no one displaced by war or persecution and no stories about children abandoned or abused. This is what the Kingdom of God is to look like.

If we serve the king, then we will one day enter the fullness of the kingdom. It really is as simple as that. We see beyond so that we can see the importance of what is right now. We build the kingdom so at odds with the common sense of power and might, that the poorest and weakest, the neediest and lowest will welcome us, as they are the gatekeepers in the kingdom, the last who will be first.

Assisted Suicide: proposed Parliamentary Bill

The Catholic Bishops have issued a statement, ahead of the second reading of the Terminally ill (End of Life) Bill. It defends the vulnerable in society who are at risk through this proposed legislation and the bishops advocate for better funded palliative care to be available. People who are suffering need to know that they are loved and valued. The time given to debate this bill is woefully inadequate. We are encouraged to contact our MP to make our opposition known asking them to oppose the bill. There are still some postcards left at the back of church which you can fill in and send off or you can simply write to your MP.
